Speaker Bio:

Chad Worz, PharmD, BCGP, is the chief executive of the American Society of Consultant Pharmacists (ASCP) and a board certified geriatric pharmacist. He is a graduate of the University of Cincinnati College of Pharmacy. Worz's career has focused on the medication management of older adults. Worz developed an innovative clinical practice in a long-term care setting in Ohio and directed the pharmacy practice of a regional, independent pharmacy. Worz went on to establish a nation-wide, geriatric-based pharmacist consulting company to educate and provide medication management services to nursing facility residents, nursing facility administration, long-term care pharmacies, and the public. During the pandemic he helped amplify the role of the pharmacist in testing, treatment, and vaccination, bridging front line pharmacists and government agencies. He presents nationally on medication management.
